

THE PROMPT-

April 2012- Abridged version

Chairman's Message

Calendar Girls is cast and I think that the directors have chosen brilliantly (what makes you think that I got a part?!), The Tempest rehearsals are going extremely well and all the actors and backstage are working very hard. Already we are looking at Panto 2014 so if you have an interest in directing it please get in touch with us.

It is traditional at Easter for the whole of my family to come down to stay with us in Cornwall and that the Easter Bunny should appear and lay Easter Eggs in the garden – you get no prizes for guessing who plays the Easter Bunny! Hence the photo!

May the Bunny bring you lots of Easter Eggs and a very happy time.

Yours hoppily, Aline

Congratulations are in order.

Well done to: BRYHER FLANDERS, who has just been accepted into The National Youth Theatre. Bryher is playing Miranda in "The Tempest".

GUY WATSON: who has been accepted on a Directors' Course at the London Drama Centre, Hampstead. Guy has appeared in several of our productions and is already a known Director and has formed his own Dreamteam Theatre Company.

Guy is currently directing Noel Coward's Private Lives for Gweek Players this month.

Calendar Girls' Auditions

First of all Kath and I have to say how thrilled we were with the turn out for the auditions for 'Calendar Girls' It far outweighed our expectations and we now can't wait to get started on this production.

Several new faces came on the day and have also been cast. The level of talent displayed was amazing to watch and left a lump in my throat on several occasions during the afternoon so I think we can safely say this show will be a 'must see' Just to remind you all though, the play will be staged from 17th – 20th October so spread the word. Below is the cast list and obviously we will update you on our progress via 'The Prompt' Please don't forget to join in with the sunflower growing competition that will be launched at the AGM on the 19th April... Elaine G

As promised, below is the cast list for Calendar Girls.

Chris	Aline Turner		John	Richard Hope-Pears
Annie	Ali Mason		Rod	Guy Hanson
Ruth	Penny Mergler		Lawrence	Ben Killingback
Celia	Miriam Loosemore		Liam	Steve Clark
Cora	Bronia Saunders		Brenda Hulse	Pam Furnish
Jessie	Moo Burnett		Female Voiceover	Trisha Humphries
Marie	Liz Bartlett
Lady Cravenshire	TBC
Elaine	Emma Gummow

Obituary: Olwynne Hutt

You may already be aware that Olwynne sadly passed away in March.

“Jack the Giantkiller” was the first production of ours that Olwynne worked on and I am grateful to David Ivall for the following:

Olwynne Hutt was a music teacher, who had been musical director for a number of shows for Truro AODS and earlier for societies in the West Midlands. She was for several years head of music at Polwhele House School, where she taught musical theory to the Truro Cathedral choristers. CDDG is very grateful for all the talent and effort she put into making “Jack the Giantkiller” a success. She is survived by her partner Chas Rimmer, who directed many of the shows on which she had worked.

Minack Theatre Visits 2012

Importance of Being Ernest 29th June Adults £8.55 Children £4.50 @ the Minack by Miracle Theatre

Return of the Forbidden Planet 24th August Adults £8.55 Children £4.50 @ the Minack by Mitre Players

Tickets have been booked for the above shows and we do have a couple of bookings from the group. If you would like to join us please contact the Barkers on 01872 870256.

Group bookings for the Return to the Forbidden Planet show have now sold out, so if you want a great show in a great venue give us a call, as we have some tickets available.

Editor: Ann Lejeune email editor@carnondownsdrama.co.uk

Carnon Downs Drama Group: Registered Charity No: 1086921

www.carnondownsdrama.co.uk

Tel: 08454 500296